ELECTION RECORDS
SERIES I

1837-Present

Series I includes county, state, and congressional* election records, primarily canvasses of votes and reports of the canvassing committees, arranged chronologically. Other types of material found within the collection are returns of votes, consent of candidates, and certificates of election. The series was formed by consolidating three collections; state officers election records, county officers election records, and finally, state and county election records. The decision to join the three collections was prompted by a 1977 law (Act #42), creating a consolidated ballot which went into effect in 1978. For the first time congressional, state, and county elections appeared on the same ballot.

The election records found in Series I reflect changes in the election process. Arrangement of the collection was determined by the format of the election material as it was mandated by the Legislature. Thus changes such as the extension of the term of state officers to two years in 1870, the popular election of secretary of state and auditor of accounts in 1884, the reappearance of the office of the attorney general in 1904, and the introduction of the direct primary in 1915 all illustrate the impact of election law on the formation of election records.

Items of particular interest within this collection include correspondence relating to the consent of candidates and the first 20th century recount for a state officer, which set up the current recount process.
